Multiliteracy in Education

Professional Development Workshop

For Kindergarten through 8th Grade Educators
Tuesday, April 12, 2022
8:30 AM - 11:30 AM

Cost: FREE with stipends for substitutes available.

In this workshop, educators will investigate ways to nurture students' languages and cultures in their education. The course will also reflect on language as cultural expression, participants will share experiences to build community, and discuss helpful resources. The workshop is FREE to attend and the Cooper Center can help with the cost of substitutes in order to attend thanks to the support of the Davis Memorial Scholarship Fund.

About the Instructor

Andrea Bennett Gutierrez is a graduate student in the Language, Reading and Culture master's program, with an emphasis on bilingual education. She has worked in informal education in nonprofit and museum settings and strives to implement biliteracy in education and community engagement.

She is a native Spanish speaker and learned Portuguese as an undergraduate student. Andrea loves nature and art, and often enjoys painting or drawing outdoors. She also loves animals, particularly lizards, frogs, small rodents, and dogs.

Multiliteracy in Education: Professional Development Workshop is FREE to attend! We can offer to cover the cost to attend and the cost of substitutes thanks to generous funding from the Davis Memorial Scholarship Fund.

More information to help you get started will be provided once your registration is confirmed.
